Driving Tips

1. ATTENTION: Many stop lights have cameras. If you drive through a red light, do not make a “complete stop” or if you stop in the crosswalk before a right turn, you may get a traffic ticket in the mail.
2. Pedestrians and bicycles ALWAYS have the right of way, let them go first.
3. ALWAYS use “Directional Signals” for right or left turns or pulling away from a curb. Signal in advance of your turn.
4. MERGE: into oncoming traffic at a constant but safe rate of speed and as soon as moving traffic will allow, safety enter the lane. DO NOT STOP IN A MERGE LANE!
5. SCAN: for other traffic at all times while you are driving or while you are waiting at a traffic signal or preparing to make a turn. Always check your mirror and be a cautious driver.
6. STOP SIGNS and RED LIGHTS: No left turns on red lights, right turns must yield to oncoming traffic and pedestrians! Your car must come to a full and complete stop behind the crosswalk lines.
7. CHANGING LANES: To change from one driving lane to another you MUST turn on the directional signal in advance. Look in the rear-view mirror and side mirrors for traffic that is behind or beside you. Also, look over your shoulder, as cars may be in your bling spot.
8. TURNING WHEN YOU HAVE A GREEN LIGHT: Right Turns- Turn on the signal, scan intersections and sidewalks before you begin your turn. NEVER COME TO A COMPLETE STOP AT A GREEN LIGHT—UNLESS THERE IS TRAFFIC OR A PEDESTRIAN IN YOUR TURN LANE. Left Turns- Turn on signal, make sure road is clear, and double check for traffic or pedestrians.
9. TURNING ONTO ANOTHER STREET WITHOUT A TRAFFIC LIGHT: When you make turns without a traffic light, you do NOT have the right of way, oncoming traffic does.
10. DRIVING SPEED: Always look for the speed limit signs in your driving area. School zones, school crosswalks and housing areas are 25 mph. Bling intersections, alleys and railroads are 15 mph. Business districts and residential areas are 25 mph. Most city streets are 35-40 mph, check signs. Highways and Freeways are usually 60-70 mph, check signs. Drive at the same rate of speed as other vehicles. The right lane is reserved for slower traffic, left lane for passing.
11. TURNING AT A BUSY INTERSECTION: You can move your car to the center of the intersection and prepare to “turn left” as soon as other traffic stops. NEVER STOP IN THE CENTER OF THE INTERSECTION SO THAT YOU BLOCK OTHER TRAFFIC FROM MOVING.
12. BIKE LANE: Look for the designated bike lanes. Do not drive into the bike lane. If the bike lane turns a corner, make sure that when you turn the corner you do not cross over the bike lane. Enter the bike lane only when the white line is “broken”. The only time you may enter a bike lane is when making a right hand turn, use signal and merge just before making the turn, after you check for people using the bike lane.

13. Driving during Holidays: Major roads and highways will be very crowded during and around the holidays. Use caution and add extra hours into your driving time.
14. Driving on wet roads: Is very dangerous, reduce speeds! Roads become slippery when wet, especially within the first few hours of the storm.
15. Driving on wet roads in cold weather: Very dangerous. A transparent coating of ice can form on the road, called black ice. Be very cautious and go very slowly.
16. Parking: Do not park your car on a street when your car is facing in the opposite direction of traffic. You will be fined!

What if You get Pulled Over?

What to Do When You Get Pulled Over by the Police

If you need to travel a short distance to pull over, do so at a slower pace than you normally drive. You don't want the officer to think you're trying to make a getaway. Also, if you need to cross multiple lanes to pull over to the right-hand side of the road, do so safely.

3. Stay in the car. If you get out of the car as soon as you stop, it may give the impression to the officer that you're going to be aggressive, or you have something to hide in the car. It is best to stay seated until instructed otherwise.
4. Turn off the engine, roll down window, and turn on your dome lights. As soon as you come to a stop, turn off your engine and roll down your window. If it's dark out, turn on your dome light so the officer can see what's going on inside the vehicle as he approaches.
5. Stay calm. It's common to get amped up whenever you get pulled over. Take some deep breaths and relax. If it helps, it's good to remind yourself that the officer is probably nervous too.
6. Stay still and keep your hands on the steering wheel. Keep your hands resting on the wheel and remain still as the officer approaches your vehicle. You don't want to give the officer any reason to believe you're a threat.
7. If you plan on fighting your ticket, keep answers short and don't directly admit wrongdoing. Everything you say to an officer is admissible in court, so if you plan on fighting your tngnds resting on the

12. Return hands to the steering wheel. After you've handed the officer your paperwork, return your hands to the steering wheel. You always want to keep your hands visible to the officer.
13. Be civil. Be polite and respectful in your communications with the officer. Although you may not be happy to get a ticket, calling the officer names, threatening, and being rude won't get you anywhere. In fact, it could make things worse.
14. You don't have to consent to a search. In order to search your vehicle without your consent, an officer needs probable cause. If the officer doesn't have probable cause but wants to search your car anyway, they'll need your consent and may ask you something

c. Petersen Automotive Museum: www.petersen.org/ Miracle Mile was the first commercial development in L.A. designed expressly for the benefit of drivers, and so a former department store makes an apt home for this museum of car culture. A 2015 redesign has since turned the automotive history museum into a high-tech gallery with about 150 cars on display. There's a glimpse into the rise of car culture in Southern California, but that mostly takes a backseat to a focus on the progress, dominance and dazzling good looks of the automobile. You'll find a mix of famous

f. Lomita Railway Museum www.lomita-rr.org The Museum was built in 1966. Much research and study was given to depot structures before the final home for the Museum was chosen. Everyone who worked on the building was an artist in his line. This of course includes John W. Gallareto, the designer and builder. No expense was spared to produce a proper and appropriate treasury to house the valuable historical items on display in the Museum.
